Selecting Seeds.

This is peculiarly the time of seed gathering, and much depends upon the care and skill exercised. It may be laid down as a general rule, that the earliest and best specimens of plant should invariably be chosen to furnish the germs of future crops.

Corn is the most important production of our country, and the special care must be taken to select seed now for spring. After deciding from experience what variety is best adapted to the locality, let the attention next be directed to finding the fields or stalks which have ripened first, for a quick growth and early maturity are the most important considerations in an country where on the average, one tenth of the crop is annually lost by the frost. Next to early ripening, look for those stalks which are most prolific in large ears. The ears themselves should be chosen with reference to their being well filled out with kernels at each end. Those ears which are true to the variety should be taken. If the kernels are of mixed colors they are hybrids, and will not produce as well as if pure.

The same principle applies to selecting other seed crops. Choose the finest potatoes, squashes, pumpkins, melons, eggplants, beets, carrots, tomatoes, onions, peppers, &c., and the best and earliest beans and peas, and let them be carefully preserved until wanted. Care exercised upon such matters is not only a benefit to the person immediately concerned, but is also a public good, for so much as it improves the general quality and fruitfulness of the various productions of the soil.

Preventing Curculio.

The important fact was elicited in conversation at the Farmer's Club the other day that plum-trees planted in such a position that the fruit will hang over water will never be stung by curculios, so that nothing is more easy than growing this delicious fruit—wherever the trees can be so planted. Dr. Underhill, of Croton Point Vineyard notoriety, says, that he is never troubled, not having seen an insect upon one of 150 trees for years. He formed an artificial pond, with banks constructed on purpose to let the trees slant over the water. He gathers the fruit in a boat. He has many of the best varieties of plums so planted, and never saw finer fruit than these produce. It is an experiment that should be tried by every man who has the necessary conveniences. The ravages of curculio have been so great for many years that we have had but few plums, and those inferior and high priced, in this market.

SPADING VS. PLOWING.—Wonders never cease, has often been said, and still holds true. To the astonishment of the farming community, and the rest of mankind, spading machines are now being procured which are capable of doing the work of three to five plows in width, and from eight to eighteen inches in depth, with the power exerted by one or two yoke of oxen. It does more; the soil is left as light as after being thrown up by the expert hands of a genuine son of Erin with an ordinary spade.

NEVER SATISFIED.—The Chattanooga, (Tenn.) Advertiser of Saturday last, says: Every day for several weeks we have had rain. The fears now entertained by the farmers are 'that the corn will be so large that they cannot gather it.'

BIGOTS.—A bigot is necessarily a person of an intensely selfish nature; and when he cannot make money out of bigotry, crushing out the rights of others will serve to gratify his low and degraded love of domination. Bigots and bigotry are not confined to the Church; but when a bigot is found there, he is the meanest of all God's creatures. To bigotry he unites blasphemy; for he invariably represents God as having a nature as mean as his own, and on that ground, justifies his own persecutions and his own low and degraded interference with others to the enjoyment of their opinions.

'Insults,' says a modern philosopher, are like counterfeit money, we can't hinder their being offered, but we are not compelled to take them.

SEIZURE OF CANADIAN VESSELS BY U. S. AUTHORITIES.—The St. Catharines (Canada) Journal complains that numerous seizures of Canadian vessels passing through the canal, bound to Oswego, are made by the United States authorities, for assumed violations of the American navigation laws. The Journal says that the Canadian law for the protection of ship owners and shippers is thus made of no effect, and calls upon the Provincial government to interpose.

A NOVEL PROCLAMATION.—Mayor Cross, of Milwaukee, issued a proclamation, on the eve of the late election in that city, requesting the 'keepers of liquor saloons and larger beer halls to close their respective places on Tuesday, the 6th inst., and all go to the polls and vote the straight democratic ticket.'

As Irish drummer, who now and then indulged in a nigger of right good potent was accosted by the reviewing general, 'What makes your nose so red?' 'Please your honor,' replied Pat, 'I always blush when I speak to a general of ficer.'

Men of noble dispositions always think themselves happiest when others share their happiness with them.

The following is a very appropriate epitaph upon an atrocious man.

At rest beneath this churchyard stone
Lies Jimmy Jimmy Wyatt.
He died one morning just at ten,
And saved a dinner by it.

JOHN AGAIN.

JOHN has been to New York, Niagara Falls and Canada. I must tell you friends a little of what I have seen, if you will call at my market, before I forget it. I did see numerous packages of goods marked J. & H. Coughle, such as Rice, Sugar, Coffee, Fish of all kinds, DRY GOODS, and Notions.

So I started for Plymouth thinking that I was in a hurry, but I just met him. Well let him tell them, I must try to make a livelihood by strict attention to the market and garden, but H. says that he will buy some and such little things for me, so that I may get along if I remain faithful to the market. I will do that. My brother in Canada presented me with a rare and unexpected diamond, (a Shanghai Rooster). When I attempt to speak of this feathered pledge of brotherhood, language cannot come to time. He has a strong tendency to run to legs; he is shaggy, disposes of his goods in a very tail like the but end of a feathered duster, and his voice like a rhinoceros with the whooping cough; but call in the market, I can sell you plenty of other birds, but how they ever got my chicken to Plymouth, is uncertain, but the chicken tell me that they switched off on a side track and made him draw the passenger train, and for fear that he might stray away in the night, I carried him to the wood-house in the garden. But this voracious animal is eating me out of house and home, and with the means of the market only, I see that one of us must starve. His hunger is still on the increase. I have missed some of my wood, pigs, and kittens. The poor brute has also commenced eating his toes. I observed him looking strongly after Mr. Dowling's back, and being backed out. Call folks and see this monster.

Oh, this feathered King Nothing, like the Eastern Prince, who, when he wants to ruin a man, makes him a present of an elephant, and will not allow him to sell it, or to give it away or kill, but he must keep the same and be devoured. This voracious brother, for some unknown injury that I have done him, has sent me this villain, who eats as if he was the result of a cross between the anaconda and the Otchich. He must be killed, or sold for a breaking team, or to some State or Territory for a curiosity.

Times in New York—I saw the Astor house, city hall, white hall, and several other curious things, and the most interesting I found myself in bed with my clothes on, my boots under my pillow, my hat under the stove, and my watch in the water pitcher. I tried to write to some one with my tooth-brush—found it in the ink-stand. This tooth water interfered with my system, and I was obliged to get in bed with my clothes on, my boots under my pillow, my hat under the stove, and my watch in the water pitcher.
